

COCKTAILS

We have sought to capture the essence of maritime traditions in our cocktail menu. It reflects the changing moods and rhythms of a day at sea. Each cocktail is a homage to a unique sailor tradition, creating an immersive journey for our guests

GOLDEN DAWN

gin | orange liqueur | orange peel blanco | aloe vera and honey mix | lemon juice | 164

Red sky at morning, sailors take warning." This old sailor's belief signifies the importance of the dawn's first light. A golden sunrise is seen as a promise of fair winds and calm seas, setting the course for the day's voyage.

KNOTS BREW

whiskey | single malt whisky | sweet vermouth | homemade coffee liqueur | black peppercorn tincture | sugar syrup | 240

Knots are vital to a sailor's craft. Each knot, from the sturdy bowline to the adjustable sheet bend, has its purpose. Before setting sail, sailors meticulously untie their mooring knots, an essential ritual believed to ward off bad luck and symbolizing the commencement of a new journey.

NEPTUNE'S TOAST

white rum | maraschino & Campari mix | citrus sherbet | mint leaves | lemon juice | Prosecco | 184

Prior to setting sail, sailors often gather for a "bon voyage" toast. The tradition involves clinking their glasses against the ship's gunwale, an act of respect towards the ship that serves as their home and protector at sea. This toast is an appeal to the sea gods - Poseidon, Neptune, or Njord - for safe passage and good fortune on their journey.

HEMISPHERE VOYAGER

whiskey | honey liqueur | maple syrup | peanut butter | banana jam | red orange juice | lemon juice | 168

The "line-crossing ceremony" is a rite of passage for sailors crossing the equator for the first time. The festivities often include the sailors dressing as King Neptune and his court and promoting the uninitiated, or "pollywogs", into "shellbacks".

WATCHMEN'S DELIGHT

tequila | lemongrass & kaffir lime leave cordial | lemon juice | passion fruit foam | 220

The sound of eight bells marks the end of a sailor's four-hour watch. This enduring tradition reflects the sailors' respect for order and the rotation of responsibilities, ensuring that the ship never goes unattended.

TWILIGHT COMPANION

vodka butterfly pea | grapefruit zest triple sec | lemon juice | sugar syrup | Prosecco | 240

As the sun sets, day ends and the sky turns a deep indigo, sailors watch for the sight of an albatross. Maritime lore holds that these birds are the souls of sailors lost at sea, and their sighting is seen as a good omen for a safe journey through the coming night.

IN BOCCA AL LUPO

mezcal | lemon juice | Aperol | sweet vermouth | Jägermeister | lemon juice | rosemary wine reduction | 210

Italian sailors have a whimsical approach to well wishes. Instead of saying "buona fortuna" (good luck), they playfully utter "in bocca al lupo" (in the mouth of the wolf). This unique expression reflects their belief that blessings and good fortune should come from the gods of the sea, and directly wishing for it may interfere with the intended outcome.

SHANTY SERENADE

white rum | coconut liqueur with coconut cream | ginger & pineapple shrub | lime juice | ginger beer | 188

As the stars appear, sailors gather to sing shanties, their melodies often echoing tales of legendary sea creatures and mythical adventures. This communal singing serves to keep spirits high, synchronize work, and keep the rich maritime lore alive.

PIONEERING HORIZON

gin | sweet vermouth | berry mix cordial | soy sauce | lemon juice | pomegranate syrup | 162

As the darkest hour descends, the beam of a lighthouse emerges - a beacon guiding sailors safely to the harbor. But the voyage's end holds one last tradition - the "first foot on land." This chosen one, usually a sailor who has previously braved disaster at sea, steps ashore first, imbuing the crew with good luck for future voyages. This poignant moment, the combination of relief, achievement, and anticipation, promises more adventures as a new day dawns.
